Lorne's Critical Thinking Presentation

Think Again

How to Succeed by Re-Thinking the Way You Think

Based on his newest book, Think Again, Lorne's presentation:

- Delves into the relationship between your rational and emotional thought centers and demonstrates how to leverage them for success.
- Explains the role your neural-network plays in shaping your actions, reactions, and decisions.
- Helps participants understand the key differences between default thinking and engaged thinking.
- Shows the audience that by surfacing their assumptions and biases they can re-programming their neural pathways and achieve mind-blowing results.

In this program, Lorne weaves the latest thinking in the fields of neuroscience, psychology, and academia into an engaging and highly entertaining presentation. You'll never think the same way again!

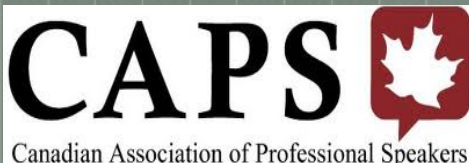

TESTIMONIALS

"I have had the pleasure of working with Lorne in context of his expertise on facilitation and delivery of messaging related to sales effectiveness and client management. His extraordinary ability to engage a broad range of audiences, and capture the essence of the learning in a fun and energetic way, have made a mark with his audiences and earned him extensive repeat business and extended engagements. I've enjoyed learning from him, and benefiting the teams I've worked with by having his skills brought to their learning situations as well."

Yvonne Thevenot, Consultant at RBC

"In his role as the Director of Learning at Thomas Cook, Lorne managed and implemented exceptional real-world learning and coaching programs to the front line employees and management. Through the delivery of the customized training and coaching initiatives and his ability to integrate those initiatives into the larger performance management system, he achieved a measurable return on investment on the key performance indicators for the company. By applying his unique consultative approach and excellent interpersonal effectiveness, he also played a key role in improving the operational efficiencies and cultural landscape of Thomas Cook. He was very influential in building sustainable, client-centric partnerships. Lorne is extremely competent, dedicated, always engaged in his projects, and an absolute pleasure to work with!"

Lorne's Behavioral Leadership Presentation

‘Aint Misbehavin’

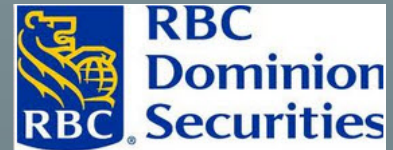

Why Behavioral Leadership is the Only Leadership That Matters

Great leaders are made, not born. They study, develop, apply, and refine the core leadership competencies necessary to excel as managers and leaders. At their core, however, they are products of their behaviors. In 'Aint Misbehavin' your audience will learn:

- The 100 behaviors that matter most at work.
- The 4 core leadership competencies that define excellence in leadership.
- How to understand and detect the negative behaviors that may be poisoning your work environment and what to do about them.
- What the underlying psychological triggers are that drive both appropriate and inappropriate behaviors within leaders.

In this program, Lorne marries heartfelt leadership stories with gut-wrenching reality checks in order to provide a roadmap to behavioral leadership mastery. Laying bare 25 years of battle-tested behavioral work across several disparate industries, Lorne will empower you to reflect on, and implement, new behavioral leadership choices.

Lorne's Art of Engagement Presentation

Let's Get Engaged

How to Master the Art of Employee Engagement

The Art of Employee Engagement is a research driven presentation that defines employee engagement in practical terms and provides a roadmap that organizational leaders can put to immediate use in their business by:

- Understanding the Employee-Customer-Profit chain and comprehending why Employee Engagement is a necessity and not a luxury.
- Analyzing the key business impacts that drive employee engagement.
- Digging deep into the specific actions and behaviours required to foster and grow a culture of employee engagement.
- Understanding why you cannot take your employees level of engagement for granted.

In this program, Lorne takes you on a roller-coaster ride of high drama tinged with humor that draws direct connections between an engaged workforce and the attainment of successful business outcomes.

TESTIMONIALS

"What can you say about a person who is the best in his field? Some words that come to mind...awesome, clear and concise, embracing, great speaker, passionate for his work, a great observer..but the two words that stand out the most when I think of Lorne are - "in perpetuity". Lorne's way of accurately explaining things and adding a touch of humor keeps his audience engaged and absorbed in what he has to say, a skill that he has mastered! My greatest desire? Work with Lorne again."

Manon Blouin, Vice-President & General Manager,
Thomas Cook Canada

"Lorne Kelton is the consummate professional. I had the pleasure of knowing Lorne during his tenure as President of CAPS Vancouver. His leadership style was engaging and his speaking and business prowess highly respected. He displays a genuine caring for his clientele and colleagues."

Michelle Ray, Leadership Strategist, Author, and International Speaker
